6,000 HOLY NAME MEN MARCH IN PARADE

First Demonstration Here A Big Success—Ideal Weather

MUSICBY SEVEN BANDS

Benediction by Bishop O'Connell at George Washigton Park—Address by Rev. J. M. Macken, O. P.

The first Holy Name demonstration ever staged in Alexandria was witnessed yesterday afternoon when between 7,000 and 8,000 members of that organization from Washington marched in solemn procession carrying banners and pennants of a variety of colors. The procession extended over two miles of the city's streets, ending at George Washington Park where benediction of the blessed sacrament was given. Weather conditions were ideal and the streets were thronged with spectators, thousands having journeyed over by electric trains, boats and motor vehicles. The affair was one of the most successful ever given by the Holy Name Society and the promoters were well pleased. Each participant carried pennant marked "H. N. S." and each organization had its own banner. There were twenty-five parishes represented and about seven bands of music.

Assembling at George Washington Park the participants with uncovered heads knelt reverently when benediction was given, Rt. Rev. D. J. O'Connell, bishop of the diocese of Richmond, who was assisted by Rev. Louis Smet, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Alexandria, and Rev. Joseph J. Kelly, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church Alexandria. An altar had been erected and it was prettily decorated for the occassion. Probably 10,000 persons in addition to the participants attended the exercises.

The Very Rev. James M. Macken, O. P., of the mission house, South Norwalk, Con., delivered the sermon. An address of welcome was made by Bishop O'Connell, who among other things delved into the history of St. Mary's Church of Alexandria, saying plans for its establishment here were outlined by Col. Fitzgerald, aid de camp to Gen. Washington, and that at the meeting Gen. Washington was present.

Rev. Father Macken among other things said "This demonstration is making the name of Jesus better known and better loved. The lesson Christ teaches he said is love of country but God above all.

Following the benediction the heads of the various organizations and spiritual directors were tendered a banquet in the Lyceum Hall. More than 100 guests attended and Bishop O'Connell was the guest of honor. Music was furnished by St. Rita's orchestra and St. Mary's Industrial Band. The hall was prettily decorated and an elaborate menu was served by a committee of women of St. Mary's Church. The banquet was presided over by P. A. Kersey, chairman of the banquet committee.

John Hadley Doyle, president of the Holy Name Society of Washington, responded to the toast "Our Society, Its Aims and Objects." He stated it now has a membership of two million.

Rev. E. A. Brosnan, Richmond, responded to the toast "Our Society as Seen by the Clergy." This organization he declared was the hope of the Catholic Church as its teaches obedience to lawful authority. He predicted the formation of a diocsean union in Richmond in the near future.

Others who spoke included P. J. Haltigan, whose subject was "Our Society as Seen by the Layman" and Joseph B. Tulley of Baltimore and Bishop O'Connell, the last named two making impromptu addresses, they not being on the program for speeches.

Before adjourning a rising vote of thanks was tendered P. A. Kersey of the Alexandria division for the successful manner in which the affair was handled.

A feature of the parade was St. Mary's Industrial Band of Baltimore. There were thirty-five of the lads in line and they headed the Richmond delegation which was composed of 150 members from that city. They were headed by Rev. E. A. Brosnan, and James Tucker, president of the Sacred Heart Holy Name Society, Richmond, and John Amrhein, president of St. Mary's branch, Richmond.

The parade was marshaled by Capt. Harry Walsh, of Washington and was led by a squad of police. Then came John Hadley Doyle, president of the Washington branch with Michael D. Schaffer of Washington as chief of staff.

The first division was marshaled by Michael J. Driscoll and was made up as follows: Sacred Heart Cathedral, Richmond and the following Washington branches: Holy Trinity, Capt. W. A. King, U. S. Ogden and the members of the fire department. The committee on parade was composed of Thomas E Dyson, chairman; Julian Downey, Mr. Cravenstein, R. N. Roland, J. Lee Lash, jr., J. J. Grehan, T. E. Drys Ready to Block Prohibition Prepared Rider on Sundry Bill at Today's Session of Congress

Washington, May 10.—Mexico City is occupied by revolutionists, Carranza has fled.

This information was reported to the Government yesterday through official channels from Vera Cruz. It bears out reports circulated from border cities. The official advices reached Vera Cruz by wireless from Mexico City.

The revolutionaries in control of the capital are soldiers of General Obregon, who began the revolt against Carranza by leading the secession of the State of Sonora, which was followed by the revolt of military leaders throughout the country.

The whereabouts of Carranza is unknown. He has been reported at Vera Cruz. Another unauthenticated report received here by Obregon agents, said he had been arrested at Esperanza, between Mexico City and Vera Cruz.

Direct communication has been reestablished between Washington and Mexico City, and dispatches are being received.

Nothing indicated there had been fighting of a serious nature. This is explained by the fact that the first chief has been deserted by his soldiers and has been unable to put into the field armies which could resist the uprising against him.

Reports to Obregon agents here said Nuevo Laredo had surrendered; that Tampico is expected to surrender early this week, and that Piedras Negras and Matamoras would be occupied tomorrow. It was claimed Northern Mexico is completely isolated.

Four destroyers left Key West today for Tampico, Mexico, the Navy Department announced last night. The remaining two destroyers of the six sent south from New York last week also will proceed to Tampico as soon as minor repairs are completed.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

Editor, Alexandria Gazette:

Will you kindly allow me space in your columns to express, on behalf of the executive committee handling the Holy Name demonstration, our sincere appreciation of the splendid co-operation of the city officials toward making our demonstration a success.

We wish particularly to express our gratitude to the Chief of the Alexandria Fire Department, Kenneth W. Ogden and the Chief of Police, C. T. Goods, and through them to their men for the wonderfully efficient manner in which they handled the police and trafic arrangements.

The manner in which these matters were handled was admired by every one and could not have better, and in conclusion I might add that Alxandria has good reason to be proud of these zealous and efficient public servants and guardians of our safety and security.

Socialists Nominate "Our Only Candidate" Amid Cheers

New York, May 10.—The Socialist party of America yesterday plunged into the active political warfare of the 1920 presidential campaign with broadside after broadside fired by its "big guns," at the national convention mass meeting in Madison Square Garden.

Ensconced in this fortress, which was surrounded by a strong cordon of New York police to guard against "antiradical" demonstrations, the meeting hailed Eugene V. Debs, now serving 10 years in the Atlanta, Ga., Federal prison for violation of the espionage act, as the Socialist candidate for the Presidency. Ovation after ovation greeted characterization of Debs as 'our only candidate."

Judge Barley Overules Motion to Set Aside Churchman Will

In the corporation court today Judge L. C. Barley announced his opinion sustaining the Churchman will and it is expected that an order will be entered tomorrow awarding judgment to the beneficiaries. The will was probated September 18, 1918. Charles Churchman left an estate valued at about $50,000.

The case was heard some time ago before a jury and the jury gave a verdict sustaining the will. A motion was filed to set aside the verdict and it was on this motion that Judge Barley acted today.

Hhis Whereabouts Unknown—One Report Places Him at Vera Cruz, Another Says He Was Captured.

Washington, May 10.—Wet leaders are mustering their ranks for full attendance in the House today, in preparation for another test of strength to repeal the Volstead law. Wets believe unless a large percentage of the House is present it is unwise to bring a vote on the prohibition issue. They maintain, however, if all their men are in place there will be well over a hundred votes swung today for repeal of the Enforcement act.

The House today will reach the item of $100,000 provided the Department of Justice in the Sundry Civil bill to enforce prohibition. This sum has been fixed instead of $300,000 requested by the Attorney General, while an item of two million dollars, asked by the Customs Service, to prevent liquor being smuggled across the border, has been eliminated from the bill. The wets plan to move to strike out the appropriation item and substitute a repealer to the Volstead act.

Drys in the House have been preparing to block another vote on prohibition by amending House rules to render a repeal proposal out of order. With the Rules Committee dry, and the majority of the House likewise, it could be done. Some leaders, however, have counseled against it, urging that the wets be permitted to try for a repeal as often as they like. Chairman Campbell, of the Rules Committee, says there will be no change attempted in the rules at this time.

The wets assert that not only is sentiment steadily growing against prohibition but, they believe, if the wet wave continues to sweep through the country, the coming elections may see a definite step taken toward complete revision of the Volstead act in response to the demand for beer and light wines, and the right of the States to determine the percentage of alcohol in beverages.

YESERDAY'S PARADE

The parade of the Holy Name Socieay of Alexandria, Washington, Richmond, and other neanby places in this city yesterday afternoon was an event long to be remembered by us, and the fact that everything passed off without the least semblance of disorder is something for which to be proud and thankful. The authorities had made proper preparations to handle the immense throngs of people and conveyances anticipated, and the police department, aided by the chief, engineer and members of the different fire companies, acted well their parts. During the entire afternoon there was but one case of friction, and that of a trivial nature. Everybody was in good humor and all vied to make the affair the great success it proved to be.

Early in the afternoon crowds were entering the city, brought here by steamboat, electric and steam train and automobils, and by the time the procession began to move there were seas of heads upon the streets, over which it passed and especially on Washington street from King to Prince street.

Later the scene changed to George Washington Park, where the closing exercises took place and where the Benediction was pronounced. The weather was ideal throughout.

As is stated above, the members of the fire department acted as auxiliaries is to city police, and they performed their part with a will, in regulating traffic so important when a city becomes congested by immense crowds and automobiles.

OUR GREATEST PROBLEM

Every decrease in the price paid to farmers for foodstuffs will merely serve to hasten the day of a food shortage so acute as to endanger the safety of our Government, says the Manufacturers' Records, which continuing says:

"In lessened food supply may be hatched the egg of revolution.

"Every consumer who rejoices in reports of decrease of prices paid the farmers for grain, cotton, livestock and dairy products will soon realize that his joy will be turned to mourning. Cheap milk or bread or meats will merely mean a smaller supply and famine prices later on.

"The questions of the League of nations, of soldiers' bounty, of Democratic or Republican supremacy are mere soap bubbles blown by children as compared with the mighty food supply question. Heavy pay to industrial workers and short hours of labor are like great magnets drawing more and more women from the farms to the cities, decreasing the number of farm producers and increasing the number of food consumers.

"Economic forces will eventually push foodstuffs so high that the pendulum must swing back and force people from the cities to the farms to avoid starvation, but ere the swing turns that way food scarcity and the misinformation about it may, unless we are wise, wreck our Government and our civilization.

"This is the nation's supreme problem. To its solution the people must address themselves with a full realization of its import."

NEW POTOMAC BRIDGE

Some morning papers yesterday, stated Gardner H. W. Moore, Representative of the Alexandria district, brought about the change of name in the bridge now in process of construction over the Potomac river at Georgetown. The bridge since its inception has been known as the "Key Bridge," but its name has been changed to "Georgetown Bridge." Hon. James R. Mann, of Illinois, is responsible for the change of name, not Mr. Moore, as can be seen by the "Congressional Record" of last Saturday.

Mr. Moore was more interested in procuring the additional sum of half a million dollars for the structure than in the name.

MOTHERS' DAY

Mothers were honored yesterday in the conspicuous wearing of white [illegible] of Alexandria in the annual celebration of "Mothers' Day." The flower most widely in evidence was the white carnation, but as in former years, florists were unable to supply the demand for white carnations on this particular occasion, and other white flowers were substituted effectively.

Church going crowds and those who afterwards filled the streets while the parade was in progress, displayed hundreds of white flowers in the lapels of Sunday coats, the wearers being obviously proud of the distinction of honoring their mothers in this fashion.

ECHO OF THE PAST

At a meeting held in the United States courtroom in Richmond fifty years ago, a permanent organization of the Virginia State Woman Rights Association was effected by the election of the following officers: Mrs. Anne W. Bodeker, of Richmond, president; Judge and Mrs. John C. Underwood, Judge and Mrs. Westel Willoughby, Judge and Mrs. Lysander Hill, the six last named of Alexandria; Mrs. Martha Hayes Bennett, of Norfolk; Andrew Washburn, William D. Coleman, of Richmond, vice presidents; Miss Sue L. F. Smith, of Richmond, secretary.

KEEP EVERYTHING CLEAN

Back yards and back alleys in Alexandria are the better for the recent clean up, and many a pile of household rubbish has disappeared. The contrast between teh old condition and the new should be an object lesson potent enough to keep householders from relapsing into careless ways. There must be keeping clean as well as making clean if the city is to be saved from the reproach of criminal negligence.

Only a few persons have been brought into the Police Court to answer charges of placing rubbish in streets or alleys.

MAN FOUND MURDERED

Body Cast From Launch About A Mile North of Summer Resort

Prince Frederick, Md., May 10.—Saturday morning about 8 o'clock the body of a man, who had evidently been murdered but a short time before, was found near the bay shore about a half mile north of North Beach, in Calvert county. The body was that of a white man of about 45 years of age, well dressed.

The spot where the body drifted ashore is a thickly wooded section, owner of a lumber mill who was looking for the arrival of a vessel was attracted by the sound of a motorboat. He watched the boat come close to the beach and then turn and make away, owing to dense fog the boat was scarcely discernible. An investigation was made and the body was discovered floating in from where the boat turned. There wore two bullet wounds in the dead man's head, one behind the ear and one near the temple. The wounds were still bleeding.

North Beach is about 3 miles from the terminus of the Chesapeake Beach Railroad. No one of that vicinity could identify the body.

HUNGARIANS ARE FIRM

Magyars Declared to Want Provisions in Treaty Granting Plebiscites

London, May 10.—The reports that Hungary is setting herself against acceptance of the Peace Treaty have been confirmed in Rome by Gezea Perenyi, Hungarian Councilor of State, who is now in London, says an exchange telegraph dispatch from Rome yesterday.

It quotes the Councilor as declaring that Hungary will not sign the Treaty without modifications, including provisions for the holding of plebiscites in disputed territory.

GERMAN ARMY IS CUT

Berlin, May 10.—The reduction of the German army to a total of 200,000 men will be completed by May 15 it was declared in an official statement issued Saturday night.

The discharges of numbers of officers will be effective from that date.

PREPARATION OF THE GARDEN FOR PLANTING

Preparation of the garden for the planting of crops means five things: cleaning, fencing, draining, tilling, and adding materials.

Cleaning.—In order that all available space may be utilized for the growing of crops and that the sun and air may warm the soil, the garden should be completely rid of all rubbish.

Fencing.—A fence made of chicken wire allows a maximum amount of light and a free circulation for the both of which are desirable for the best development of the plants and the prevention of such diseases as mildew. Board fences are objectionable because they shade the garden and often prevent free surface drainage.

Drainage.—Many garden soils require drainage. The need of it is indicated by the following conditions: Moss growing on the surface, plants looking yellow, or dwarfted and water standing more than three hours after a rain.

A soil may be drained by laying the land in beds with open drains, and by covered drains. The laying of the land in beds is used chiefly in winter gardening. The open drain is usually not deep enough to remove more than the surface water. It frequently occupies space needed for the growing of crops and the sides often furnish a place for weeds to grow. A covered drain is more satisfactory because it removes the surplus soil water and allows the rains to penetrate.

A covered drain should be placed in the lower section of the garden. It is made as follows: A ditch 4 feet deep should be dug and the lower 2 1-2 feet filled with tin cans, boards or stone, so placed that there will be space between to hold water. The drain is then covered with garden soil. No drain is satisfactory unless it has an outlet. This makes drainage a community problem in cities. Quite often a city gardener can not drain his garden satisfactorily unless his neighbors combine with him and together they drain all their gardens by carefully laid tile drains.

A well-drained soil is more productive because it is warmer and contains the right amount of air and moisture. These soil conditions promote the decay of organic matter, increase the amount of available plant food, and enable the roots to penetrate deeper and retain more moisture during a dry spell.

Tilling.—The soil should be broken up in the spring just as early as possible, and yet it should not be handled while wet. In the early spring, every day's delay in preparing the soil means loss by evaporation of large quantities of soil moisture which will be needed later by the growing crop. Of all the garden soils, clay is the most easily injured by working when it is not in the right condition as to moisture. If worked too wet, the particles all slide together into a compact mass. On the other hand, if worked too dry, the clods are hard to break. When clay soil is in the right condition to work it will crumble apart when squeezed in the hand. If it sticks together, it is too wet. Clay soil should never be worked when it is wet, not even with a hoe. This is an important lesson for all gardeners.

The soil should be made mellow to a depth of at least 8 inches by deep plowing and thorough harrowing. To get the best results, the soil should be both plowed and harrowed the same day. If the garden is small better results may be obtained by spading the soil thoroughly with a spading fork, crushing each spadeful of soil, removing the grass roots and roots of perennial weeds before another is lifted, and finally leveling the top soil with a garden rake.

A deep mellow soil causes the plant to grow more quickly, for large root systems can be developed and more food and moisture taken in. It also affords a large reservoir to hold rain water during the droughts that come in the growing season. Such a soil is warmer and contains air needed for the growing roots and for the decay of organic matter.

Adding of material.—A liberal dressing of well rotted manure, plowed or spaded into the soil, supplies plant food, makes the soil mellow, and seems to hold moisture during dry seasons. Manure may be added at the rate of 40 tons per acre. Some of the best gardeners are using finely-pruned bone meal at the rate of 1,000 pounds per acre and tobacco stems at the rate of 3 tons per acre. These are applied after plowing or spading rather than before, so they will not be buried too deeply. Bone meal supplies phosphorus and lime. Tobacco stems supply potash and nitrogen. These plant foods are necessary to the growth of vegetables. Truckers use from 20 to 100 tons of stable manure to the acre. In addition to 1,000 to 2,000 pounds of a high grade commercial fertilizer each year, and market from $1,000 to $5,000 worth of vegetables each year. Occasionally the addition of sand is needed to help change a clay soil into a good garden soil.

To grow well vegetable plants require a deep, mellow, moist soil, supplied with the right amount of air, heat, and variable plant food. The soil for vegetable crops is a rich sandy loam—a soil containing varying proportions of clay, sand, and organic matter. A good vegetable soil can be made in most back yards by intelligent management.

CHURCH FAVORS SUFFRAGE

Methodists in Conference Adopt Resolution Asking Delaware Ratification

Des[illegible], May 10.—The Methodist Church Saturday endorsed suffrage for women.

The general conference of the church in session here unanimously adopted a resolution asking the house of representatives of the Delaware legislature to pass the Federal suffrage amendment.

Another resolution, passed by the conference, approved the Sunday rest law of the District of Columbia which prohibits exhibition of moving pictures, baseball games, dancing and theater going on the Sabbath.

Anti-cigarette legislation was discussed by the conference following introduction of a resolution urging State laws to prohibit the sale and manufacture of cigarettes. The resolution was referred to a committee.

Blood Kills Disease Germs

Pure, Healthy Blood Destroys Germs, Removes the Waste Tissues and Rebuilds Bone and Muscle

If Your Blood is Weak, Don't Delay Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the Red Blood Builder

In your body are two gallons (more or less) of blood, which is constantly at work keeping your system free of germs, removing the waste tissues, and building up new strength in bone and muscle.

This blood must be healthy or your resistance to disease and fatigue will be lowered, you will lose weight, and both body and mind will have less vigor.

For building up blood weakened by overwork, illness or other causes, Gude's Pepto-Mangan, for years prescribed by physicians, is now generally known as a prompt and harmless tonic.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan soon produces marked beneficial results. The tired, worn-out, run down feeling disappears. And in its stead a vigorous wholesomeness and happiness proves that the blood has been supplied with the sorely needed richness to supply the entire system with renewed strength.

When you buy Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's, be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. You can get it in either liquid or tablet form. If the name "Gude's" is not on the package it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Adv.

RISE IN PRICE OF BREAD

Bakers, Fair Price Committee, U. S. Officials and Labor Fix the Cost

Bread is going up again. This was decided at a joint meeting of the fair price board of the Department of Justice, with the executive board of the Master Bakers of Washington, representatives of the journeymen bakers and a representative of the Department of Labor, held yesterday afternoon in the office of Howard Figg special assistant to the Attorney General, in charge of the government's anti-high cost of living campaign.

The loaf which formerly sold for 8 cents will now cost 10 cents. A larger loaf, which formerly sold for 8 cents will now retail for 11 cents. It was pointed out, however, that this increase in price would be offset in some degree by an increase in the size of the loaf. The smaller loaf will weigh 14 ounces instead of 13; and the larger one will be increased from 15 and 16 ounces to 17 1-2. Prices and weights go into effect Monday, May 10.

The meeting based its decision to allow the increase upon the recent award increasing labor costs, as well as the increase in the prices of sugar flour and other materials entering into the manufacture of bread.

LOSING POPULATION

1920 District of Columbia Directory Prints 12,028 Less Names Than 1919 Book

Washingtonians will be startled to learn that the directory this year has 12,028 less names in it than in 1919, and that the population is given at 30,570 below the 490,855 total accredited last year.

Last year 196,140 names were printed in the directory, while this year only 184,112 appear. In 1919 the estimated population was placed at 490,850, while this year it is only 460,280.

IRE OVER MOVIES

Tangier Folks Tell Why They Mobbed Camera Man for Filming Them

Tangier, Va., May 8.—Considerable resentment has been stirred up among the islanders here over the reports of the "mobbing" of a moving-picture operator who came to film scenes in the community where Constable Connorton recently shot Roland Parks, a boy who defied him while he was trying to enforce a municipal ordinance prohibiting loafing on the island during church services.

Reports of the affair were "too sensational," say residents, who claim that no objection was made to the taking of the pictures until it was found that the operator refused to take all types of islanders, but insisted on "shooting" only the fisherfolk and their cottages.

He was ordered to leave, and his camera and films confiscated, they say, only after he had refused a request to film a well-dressed woman, some men coming down the road, and the larger buildings of the town.

The islanders resent being held up to ridicule and condemnation from the public and no more "undesirable visitors" will be allowed on the island seeking materials for newspaper and the moving pictures.

The sentiment growing out of the affair is so strong that an organized movement is being launched by the islanders to choose a mayor and council at the municipal election this summer who will repeal the anti-Sunday-loafing ordinance, adopted after the island was incorporated.

Roland Parks, entirely recovered has returned home from the hospital at Crisfield, where he was taken several Sundays ago after the shooting with a bullet through his body. Constable Connorton is under $2,500 bail for his appearance at the next session of the Accomac County court.

STARVING THE GOOSE

That killing the goose that lays the golden egg is not wholly a figurative expression has been shown by many recent happenings. Two of them were noted in dispatches from Chicago within the last week. One was to the effect that 1,000 apartments in that city had been left vacant by tenants who had struck against profiteering landlords. Some of the tenants went to hotels to live. Perhaps it cost them more, but they had the satisfaction of making it cost the grasping landlords something too. Tenants who could not afford this doubled up with other tenants, two families taking one apartment together. Uncomfortable, perhaps, but not suicidal, as paying the increased charges in the old quarters would have been.

The other goose killing illustration was furnished in the statement that the increased wage demands of carpenters, bricklayers, painters, etc., had resulted in reducing Chicago's building program by 50 per cent. Thus these workers reduced their own total incomes in the same rate.

If you can kill the goose that lays the golden eggs, you can also by judicious diet keep it laying. In New York, when the overalls outbreak threatened to become epidemic, several firms announced heavy reductions in ordinary clothing, and others are reported more recently to have done the same thing. The goose is still laying golden eggs for them—not as large eggs, perhaps, as heretofore, but still eggs of gold.

Is it better to have small eggs or no eggs at all? The public may get to a point where the egg supply may be seriously affected.—Baltimore Sun.

"GEORGE JOHNSTON OF FAIRFAX"

In a speech at the tricentennial banquet of the Sons of the Revolution in Washingt on, when addresses were also made by the French Ambassador Jusserand and Secretary of State Colby, Representative R. Walton Moore, of the Alexandria district, referred to some of the almost forgotten patriots of the Colonial and Revolutionary days. Among them he mentioned George Johnston, of Fairfax county, Va.; who represented that county in the House of Burgesses at the time the county included within its limits the city and county of Alexandria, now Arlington county.

Mr. Johnston figured conspicuously in connection with the passage of the resolutions condemning the English stamp tax, which in 1765 passed the House of Burgesses by a majority of one vote. They were the famous resolutions of which Patrick Henry was the author, and which were written by him on the flyleaf of an old volume of Coke on Littleton. That was the occasion of Mr. Henry's great speech, which concluded with a warning to the English King that he might suffer the fate of Caesar and Charles the First

Of the part taken by Mr. Johnston, who was one of the only two persons to whom Mr. Henry showed his resolutions in advance, there is an account by Thomas Jefferson. Mr. Jefferson says: "When the famous resolutions of 1765 against the stamp act were proposed, I was yet a student of law in Williamsburg. I attended the debate, however, at the door of the lobby of the House of Burgesses and heard the splendid display of Mr. Henry's talents as a popular orator. They were great indeed; such as I have never heard from any other man. He appeared to me to speak as Homer wrote. Mr. Johnston, a lawyer, and member of the Northern Neck, seconded the resolution, and by him the learning and logic of the case were maintained."

In his "Life of Patrick Henry," William Wirt says of Mr. Johnston; "I can learn only that he was a lawyer highly respected in his profession, a scholar distinguished for vigor of intellect, cogency of argument, firmness of character, love of order and devotion to the cause of national liberty; in short, exactly guided by his love of the cause and the broad and solid basis of his understanding to uphold the magnificent structure of Henry's eloquence."

Johnston died in 1765. The Court of Records of Fairfax County show his activity as a lawyer, and the inventory of hi sestate, including his library, shows the wide range of his reading, and how closely he kept up with the literature of his time. He was the friend of Washington and Mason and served as coursel for the vestry of Pohick Church, of which they were both members. His son was lieutenant-colonel on the staff of Washington during the revolution. Johnston is buried in Fairfax county

WATCHES AMPUTATION

Little Girl Twice Goes to Operating Table

Philadelphia, May 10.—Eighty-year old Adeline Smith, of 8040 Eastwick avenue, has captured the hearts of surgeons at the University Hospital, where she occupies a little white cot today following the amputation of her right hand without the administration of an anaesthetic.

The surgeons say she is the bravest little girl ever admitted to the hospital.

"Are you going to cut my hand off?" she asked when they brought her to the hospital late yesterday afternoon.

They told her it was necessary. The curly-headed girl bit her lips, clenched her left hand and submitted to the amputation without a murmur. She watched the surgeons cut off her hand and tried to smile when the ordeal was over.

Then it was found that her wrist had been badly crushed and that to save her arm a further amputation was necessary. She again steeled herself and returned to the operating table.

She is very weak from the shock of the operation and the frightful loss of blood. But her pluck assures her recovery.

Adeline and her sister Frances, were on their way home from school when they decided to crawl under a freight train which blocked their way. Adeline was almost through when the freight suddenly started. Her sister crossed safely.

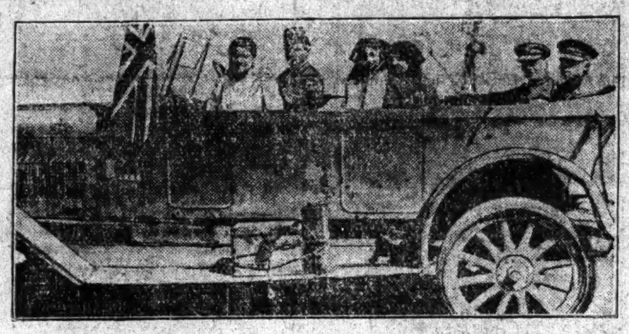
HUNGER KNOWS NO ARMISTICE

NEAR EAST RELIEF

This picture, painted especially for the Near East Relief by M. Leone Bracker, vividly portrays what words fail to express—the horrible suffering of the women and children of Armenia and adjacent countries. Peace has blessed Europe and America for more than a year but in Western Asia conditions more frightful than any war time experiences of the martyred populations of Belgium and France still exist. Thousands of women and children escaped massacre by the Turkish soldiers only to face the terrible agonies of death by starvation. At the present time it is estimated that 1,250,000 adults and fully 250,000 orphaned children are completely destitute and in imminent danger of death by starvation and exposure.

The Near East Relief, 1 Madison Avenue, New York, is at present the only organization giving aid to these suffering people and lack of funds still prevents the reaching of more than a small part of the stricken people.

SAVED FROM HAREM



Armenian Girls Rescued from Turks Being Taken to Near East Relief Home.

The three pretty Armenian girls in the auto are taking a real "joy ride," joyful having another meaning from that generally associated with auto riding here. They have been rescued from the harem of a Turk after four years of shameful servitude and are being taken to one of the Near East Relief rescue homes. No wonder they are smiling for the first time since their captivity. The Near East Relief is caring for many thousands of these girls until they can find their relatives. Also it is working to save 250,000 orphans and over a million adults from starvation this winter. That is why it is making a nation wide appeal for funds to carry on its noble work.

"Before and After" in the Near East

"BEFORE." "AFTER."

From misery to comfort and self-respect in five days' time, simply through the magic of an American ten dollar bill, is a transformation that is being wrought daily in Western Asia by the Near East Relief of 1 Madison Avenue, New York City. The group of five Armenian children shown in two pictures here have reason to bless the American donor of that ten dollar bill. With this money, the expert workers of Near East Relief in Armenia were able to rid the poor children of their loathesome rags and to clothe them with new garments of alaja cloth, woven in a Near East Relief Industrial plant and sewed into garments by the mother of the children. The mother was also paid a small fee for her services in making the garments.

This was a lucky family. There are thousands of others not so lucky in the Near East, simply because of a lack of other ten dollar bills. Near East Relief is asking the American people to contribute funds to save the starving in the Bible lands. It is estimated that over 1,250,000 adults are in desperate need, and 250,000 children are orphans and must be cared for. For the sum of $180 a year Near East Relief can not only feed and clothe and shelter an orphan child, but can also give a course in education towards ultimate self-support and independence. Many of these orphans are being "adopted" by Americans, who are providing funds for the support of one or more over a given period.

TODAY IS SALVATION ARMY SUNDAY—PASTORS EVERYWHERE WILL CO-OPERATE

APPEAL FOR 1920 HOME SERVICE FUND BEGINS TOMORROW.

"HOME SERVICE" KEYNOTE OF CAMPAIGN.

SALVATION ARMY — HOME SERVICE FUND — 1920

Today is Salvation Army Sunday throughout the United States. Pastors of evangelical churches have been requested to feature in their sermons The Army's record of Christian service, its growth and plans for the future, while in many instances its officers will occupy pulpits.

Initiated by today's devotional program, and under the chairmanship of Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the Interior, the appeal for the 1920 Home Service Fund will begin tomorrow, in an effort to secure the subscription of the $10,000,000 required to carry on its humanitarian activities in this country for another year.

The inauguration of the appeal today will not be confined to observance of the day by the churches, for in the Salvation Army posts, of which there are more than 1,000 in this country, special services will be held. Workers and officers will gather at the posts to seek inspiration and added enthusiasm for the task before them.

Tomorrow morning is a critical time in the history of the Salvation Army. It is a "zero hour," for the work of the coming year must stand or fall by the nation to this call. The plea has been carefully organized by Franklin K. Lane, who said in accepting the chairmanship of the 1920 appeal, "I am proud to face the problem of the poor with the Salvation Army."

Subscriptions to the Home Service Fund will be used to support the manifold activities of The Army throughout the United States, its rescue homes, maternity hospitals, slum settlements, nurseries, evangelical work, children's homes, prison relief work, bureaus furnishing free legal advice, and other institutions.

The old system by which the finances of the Army were recruited through tambourine collections has passed with the initiation of the Home Service Appeal. This change has been made to release to the real work for which the organization exists the large number of officers who, under the old system, devoted a considerable portion of their time to making collections. It is a measure of economy of effort.

"Home Service" is the name and keynote of the effort. The total amount needed was determined by computing the sum of the estimated requirement of the various corps, institutions and headquarters throughout the country. Practically all money subscribed in any section will be expended in that section.

A MISTAKE MADE BY MANY

Don't wait for rheumatism to indicate diseased kidneys. When you suffer pains and aches by day and sleep disturbing bladder weakness by night, feel tired, nervous and run down, the kidneys and bladder should be restored to health, strong and regular action. It is a mistake to postpone treatment. Foley idney Pills put the kidneys in sound healthy condition and keep them active and strong. Begin taking today. Good results follow the first dose.

BOOZE'S CHANCES DYING

Little Prospect of Passage of Legislation During Present Session

The strong opposition in the House to any soldier relief legislation, scarcely voiced above a whisper a little more than a month ago when the appeal of the soldiers rang loudest, is now predominating the discussion of the proposed measure. Allen T. Treadway, a Republican of the House Ways and Means Committee which framed the bill, and Thomas D. McKeown, of Oklahoma, yesterday enlisted their strength to the opposition to the proposed bill by speeches on the floor of the House.

One by one members of the House who were discreetly silent while representatives of the soldiers asked for the enactment of an adjusted compensation law and while the House Ways and Means Committee framed the bill are coming out in opposition to the measure.

Saturday the setting was ideal to kill him. There was nobody home but myself. I had the revolver concealed in my apron when he entered the front door for dinner. As he entered I stepped off just at the right distance and emptied the revolver—seven shots. I don't think he realized what had happened. He dropped [illegible] brick and died."

FIRM FOR TREATY

President Calls to Democrats to Fight for Part

Washington, May 10.—A call to the Democratic party to go into the campaign standing four square in favor of the Treaty of Versailles and against the Senate's reservations was issued last night by President Wilson in a telegram to Oregon leaders made public at the White House.

Decrying that the party had "the honor of the nation," in its hands, the President said that the Lodge [illegible] were "utterly inconsistent with that honor as well as destructive of the role of world leadership which the United States must assume.

"The only true Americanism, the President declared, "is that which puts America at the front of free nations and redeems the great promises which we made to the world." It would be a violation of such promises, he said, to attach reservations to the treaty which "whittle it down or weaken it as the Republican leaders of the Senate have proposed to do."

THIEVERY IN BERLIN

Is Unsafe to Leave Unguarded Any Movable Articles in German Capital

Berlin, May 10.—In these disturbed days, when the "revolution profiteer"—the successor of the war profiteer—flaunts his newly acquired wealth in the face of an impoverished populace, robberies and burglaries in Berlin increase at an abnormal pace. Street signs are full of announcements offering rewards for the return of stolen goods, and in one of the main business streets of Berlin a fancy goods store displays this notice:

"Gentlemen burglars are requested not to break open the shop front nor to tamper with the locks. There is nothing to steal here. All property is removed from the shop windows at night."

There have been scores of holdups and the other day a man was stripped of his clothes, shoes and hat, and left on the sidewalk in his underclothes.

It is not safe for hotel guests to leave any portable property of any description in their rooms. Articles of clothing have a way of vanishing into thin air, and hotel proprietors decline all responsibility. Police statistics indicate that the number of total robberies has trebled within the last five years.

To have typewriters unpadlocked is almost culpable negligence on the part of the owner. The Berlin criminal police has been obliged to organize a special department, dealing exclusively with stolen machines.

Cases of housebreaking have quadrupled within the last three years. Articles of clothing, bed clothes, carpets and curtains are the objects most desired by the thieving fraternity.

Dishonesty among factory hands has grown to a deplorable extent, potash gay. Leather belting disappears wholesale; it is cut up and sold to shoe repairers.

Not are churches, cemeteries and museums immune from robberies, the booty carried off being mostly ancient gold ornaments and jewelry.

FRENCH NEGRO TROOPS

German Women and Girls in Large Numbers Declared to be Victims of Attacks by Troops

Berlin, May 10.—In response to an interpellation by a woman deputy in the Wurttembury diet, Premier [illegible] declared the German government would be asked to bring about at the Spa conference a discussion of the "black disgrace," in view of alleged unchecked assaults by French negro troops upon many German women and girls in the occupied zone. Reports received here from the Saar region, which the authorities alleged are well authenticated, tell of an increasing number of murders and suicides as a result of attacks by scores of young German women by French negro troops.

The reports state that many working girls have mysteriously disappeared, while women of other classes, preferring self-imposed death to disgrace, have committed suicide.

"A storm of indescribable indignation would sweep over the civilized world if the crimes of the French colored troops were once made known, declared the Reichsbote, in discussing the situation, which it states, Germany alone is unable to solve and therefore must look for help to the white nations of the world.

Vorwaerts details instances of attacks on girls by the negroes and pays grateful tribute to the American officers in the occupied territory, who, it says, "act in sympathetic understanding with the German local bodies in the endeavors of the latter to remedy the present terrible condition of affairs.

The Social Democratic party, in conference, unanimously adopted a resolution protesting against the employment in Germany of negro troops.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Hagerstown, Md., May 10.—Jealousy caused J. H. Hetzer, of Williamsport, to shoot and kill Mrs. Kate Rowe at her home in Sharpsburg Saturday night. Hetzer himself died yesterday morning from a wound inflicted by Mrs. Rowe while she was attempting to defend herself.

The first husband of Mrs. Rowe died 25 years ago. With other property, he left a canal boat and the widow hired Hetzer to operate it for her. He persistently made love to Mrs. Rowe but his advances were rebuffed. Fifteen years ago she married Mr. Rowe. At that time Hetzer threatened he would wreck their home. During the last two weeks he had been seen near the Rowe home frequently. Saturday night, while the husband was away, Hetzer entered the house through a window. Mrs. Rowe had prepared for bed.

Hetzer fired three shots, one going wild, one striking her in the fore head and one entering her body just above the heart. Mrs. Rowe threw a lamp which hit the man in the head. Her stepdaughter who was in her room on the second floor, was awakened by the shots. She ran down and found the body of Hetzer lying across that of Mrs. Rowe. A rug, ignited by the broken lamp, was burning.

Thinking Hetzer was her father, she lifted the head of the man. Hetzer staggered to his feet. He died soon after.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG
It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 25c.
